I don't recall the exact circumstances under which this tune was composed, but I presume it had something to do with the departure of a particularly harsh winter and the arrival of the forsythia, crocuses (or croci), the peepers in the marshy places, and the first sighting here on Cape Cod of cars with New York license plates and Yankees, Giants, or Jets bumper stickers. Of course there's no accounting for visitors' tastes but their money is still welcome!
